Dear Harold,

I am at the office – and very busy – There is something in my typewriter but while I have a minute, I wanted to send a Xerox of the page referred to by John Lay – from Bill Turner's book –

I don't have the Dell edition – and had a hard time locating the reference –

Oh, how I wish I could just take off for a while and relax looking out at "nature" through your picture window! As the metaphysicians say, "Just hold the truth" – and maybe I can before too long –

Love –

Mary
